

Whisper Weekend Reminder

Good Afternoon,

Week FIVE is now in the books, so this is the fifth of eight Whisper Weekend Reminders you will be receiving. The reminder is a way to update you on the progress of the program and keep the program fresh in your mind. This way over the next few days, it will be easier to remember and remind one another to Whisper their frustration rather than vocalizing it and creating a negative environment.

The Whisper Campaign information below is collected and tabulated as game sheets come in and email or voice complaints are received. As you can see, game sheets don't always make it to us very quickly. Currently, we have only received about 74% of the game sheets from games played. Therefore, the information we are providing below is only a snapshot.
